

Smart homes don't just happen... they're made

Imagine, going to the theatre, but sitting in your favorite chair, eating your favorite snacks and drinking from your favourite glass. These are just a few of the enjoyments you'll have from owning your very own home theatre with total control and versatility!

A professional Home Theatre needs serious home installation. The staff at Synergy Home Systems will bring the authentic sound of the theatre into your home with the best seat in the house. Imagine your home with an entertainment space for your clients or favorite guests. Synergy's goal is to make your home's entertainment system effortless to use. Your system will be designed to work seamlessly together with your home decor because Synergy understands that your audio system should be heard and not seen. Multi-room control systems put you in command of your music system from any room in the house. Although the system allows you to listen to the same favorite selections from room to room, it also allows you to listen to a variety of other music that can be played simultaneously at any desirable volume. Would you like your blinds and lights to open for you at exactly 6:30 am on weekdays, and perhaps 8:00 am on weekends? You can control almost anything from any room from one easy-to-use touchpad. Synergy's job is to make your life easier, safer and an extraordinary experience. Synergy Home Systems designs custom automated home systems with an open architecture, making it easily upgradable to accommodate your budget and future technologies.
